"Virtual Addiction"

I have always dreamed escaping reality
Turbo processed thoughts abound
Computating wishes found
I'm creating a new scenario for my brain
Simulated thoughts sedated
"reality" is now invaded
Addicted to a digital sect
And i play it again and i say it again
Thoughts run away now day by day
I don't have anything but the game that brings
To my attention: virtual addiction
Government has me so sedated i cannot see
Process pleasing pleasure bound
Stimulating sights and sounds
Strapped and gagged still i think i have control of me
Parameter is now executed
Destination undisputed
Computer link to brain direct
My thoughts are in sync with a program distinct
And the feelings i scream are absorbed by machine
And i work everyday just to afford to play
Just a slave to the game and all i want out of life
All i want out of life...
