always want what you don't understand one hand in the jar and a jar on the hand don't have to go very far looking for trouble

cheeks puff out with the lies in your mouth you're lying in it now as you're crying on the couch hate to say it's not looking good for tomorrow

all according to your plans your number's coming up you've got yours coming up

you don't have to go very far

it's all in your head, jarhand (x10)
