What can you say? When it's all been said before.
What can you write? When nothing's right anymore.
Where is the cop out? And the line to sell out.
Where's the aggression. And the intervention.

Sign up. Collecting collections of simple thoughts with affection
For the dead scene dressed in new clothes we're wearing.

A dead scene dressed in new clothes, the new black will sadly die so.
Sign it, write it. It's this years biggest fan.
The new black with the upper hand. Sign it, write it off!

A dead scene dressed in new clothes, the new black will sadly die so.
What can you say? What can you write?
How do you stand out? How do you raise the stakes?

What can you say? When it's all been said before.
What can you write? When nothing's right anymore.
How do you stand up? When so many are standing up.
How do you raise the stakes? When the dangerous aren't dangerous and daring.
