I remember how you came into my life and opened the way.
I remember what you said and didn't say
Believing, belonging was not far away
And in a moment like this, you know
You are so close to God but so far away.
You are so close to God but so far away.

Now you have someone by your side
And you know that things will work out fine
No words can ever express how much joy and love there is to share
And how thankful you should be
Not just for the absence of all your sorrow
But for the promise of a new tomorrow.
And in a moment like this, you know
You are so close to God but so far away.
You are so close to God but so far away.

Everyone needs some sunshine to help chase all their dark clouds away
when believing, belonging is not far away
And in a moment like this, you know
You are so close to God but so far away.
You are so close to God but so far away.

Believing, belonging is not far away
And in a moment like this, you know
You are so close to God
And not so far away.

Now you are so close to God
And not so far away.
Not so Far Away.
