"No Return"

Traveling backwards in reverse
Holding on for what its worth
And i can hardly see the point of no return
Will we make the same mistakes and never learn

Traveling backwards in reverse
Holding on for what its worth
And I can hardly see the point of no return
Will we make the same mistakes and never learn
And if we ever make it across to the other side
Will we make the same mistakes and never learn

I know we've said these things before
But I just need a little more
All I ever wanted was to make the grade
Thoughts are only valid when decisions are made
