

The Living End "Room"

Visit "Room" on MotoLyrics.com

In a room you can build a home
Plant the seed and life begins to grow
When it's outgrown life inside
How will it live and will it survive
On it's own outside?

I wonder if the world is just the same
And does the life that I knew still remain

Journey to the life outside
Return to those I left behind
Journey to the life outside
Return to those I left behind
Behind

'Cause I'm ready to go now
Yes, I'm ready to go now

I wanna get back to the city
Get on with my life
'Cause I've done my time
And I'm ready to go now

Yes, I'm ready to go now
I'm ready to go now
Yes, I'm ready to go now
I'm ready to go now
I'm ready to go now

So now it's time to leave the room
And not for one minute too soon
If you spent 16 years
Then you'd almost understand

That time waits for no man to return
A whole new set of rules to learn
It had been 16 years
Since they put me in the cell
Put me in the cell, put me in

We will never leave
We ain't never gonna leave the room

We could be here for life
We will never leave the room

And as it all gets rearranged
You find that everything has changed
And there's no place for you
In this foreign world

You always believed
One day you'd be free
And never return so soon
To what was left inside the room

We will never leave
We ain't never gonna leave the room
We could be here for life
We will never leave the room

And if I lent my arms to you
Would you hold me and embrace me?
Or replace me?

We will never leave
We ain't never gonna leave the room
We could be here for life
We will never leave the room

We will never leave
We ain't never gonna leave the room
We could be here for life
We will never leave the room

We will never leave
We ain't never gonna leave the room
We could be here for life
We ain't never gonna leave the room

We will never leave
We ain't never gonna leave the room
We could be here for life
We ain't never gonna leave the room

We will never leave
We ain't never gonna leave the room
We could be here for life
We ain't never gonna leave the room

We will never leave
We ain't never gonna leave the room
