

The Living End "Sleep On It"

The afternoon just slips away
'Cause it's the end of another day
And as the sky turns from blue to black
Time again for the image is back

So I don't know what's right
Screaming at you in the middle of the night
Can you help me please? Can you help?

Don't you sleep on it the walls are closing in
This time you feel you'll know it's not right
Now I know

Far away from reality is a lock that holds no key
The strangest dream I ever had, wake up call
Never seemed so bad, don't know what's come
Over me, some say that it's destiny
