

The Living End "The Man With No Name"

Visit "The Man With No Name" on MotoLyrics.com

Never thought it would end this way
Never cared what the money would pay
Never heard what the voices had to say

Who'd of thought it could happen to me
Twist of fate overcome destiny
Crying, Lying, eternally denying

It's only raining there's no use complaining

The man with no name who calls himself the bad pun
The man with no name, in his ordinary

Who'd of thought it could happen to me
Twist of fate overcome destiny
Crying, Lying, eternally denying

It's only raining there's no use complaining
The man with no name who calls himself the bad pun
The man with no name, in his ordinary

The man with no name who calls himself the bad pun
The man with no name, in his ordinary life

Time committing a crime
Carry on, I know I'm right
So I walk by, forever blind, forever blind, forever blind

Visit The Living End page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.