(Verse One)

You're pretty, oh so pretty
Why waste your time just sitting
Here listening to that dead-eye bitch?

Do nothing, eat your chocolate
Drink your wine, she won't let you
Make your way across her empire line!

(Bridge)

What's eating you is a mystery
But go home with her one more time
And you know you'll be history

(Verse Two)

Watch movies with the lights on
Sit still, keep her tights on
Did you see this one the same time week?

Go on, say something clever
Just act so she will never
Take you higher than her attic room

(Bridge)

What's eating you is a mystery
But go home with her one more time
And you know you'll be history

(Chorus)

She'll never take you to giddy stratospheres
I'll comfort your fears
She'll never take you to giddy stratospheres
I'll comfort your fears

(Is she a femme fatale?)

That's what she wants you to think
(She'll never lead him astray)
But it's the best she can do
(But is she going away?)
No, she'll always be here,
Waiting for you
Back here on earth

(Verse Two)

Your mother, call your mother
Even she's surprised that this is
How you want to spend your nights indoors

You never call too often
What's up? Have you forgotten
What it's like to have her on all fours?

(Bridge)

What's eating you is a mystery
But go home with her one more time
And you know you'll be history

(Chorus)

She'll never take you to giddy stratospheres
I'll comfort your fears
She'll never take you to giddy stratospheres
I'll comfort your fears

(Is she a femme fatale?)

That's what she wants you to think
(She'll never lead him astray)
But it's the best she can do
(But is she going away?)
No, she'll always be here,
Waiting for you
Back here on earth

(Middle-Eight)

There's a train at
The station
It's leaving
This morning
It'll take you
Away from
This girl that's
So boring

Don't turn around, just walk away
Don't turn around, just walk away
Don't turn around, JUST WALK AWAY

(Chorus)

She'll never take you to giddy stratospheres
I'll comfort your fears
She'll never take you to giddy stratospheres
I'll comfort your fears

(Is she a femme fatale?)

That's what she wants you to think
(She'll never lead him astray)
But it's the best she can do
(But is she going away?)
No, she'll always be here,
Waiting for you
Back here on earth
