Can you feel it, can you feel what's going on We're up all night, til we go staring at the sun
We know we have it, we know we have just what it takes
We know we could be all we want if we have the faith.

It's time to dare, it's time to dream, it's time to jump
It's time to be the only one, now here we come
And I can't imagine, how it would be without you near Now we're a team, can you feel the atmosphere

Everything we want, and everything we need
Is lying in our arms
And our history, brought the best of me, and they're gonna see
That this is who we are, this is who we are

Times can be rough, sometimes straight lines can take a turn.
You stand up straight, no matter what, that's how you learn.
Let's keep our focus on what's true, not what is wrong,
We're here together, now we know where we belong.

We're here together, now we know where we belong.

Everything we want, and everything we need
Is lying in our arms
And our history, brought the best of me, and they're
gonna see
That this is who we are, this is who we are
