It was over we had gone our separate ways
There was no one we could blame
People told me love will come again
When you least expect it
It will lift you up the way it did back then
Thought it couldn't happen
And even when I had said next time
I'll never give my heart
Cause the passion never lasts - someone told me
Love is never gone
Like a light inside you
Someone's going to come along and turn it on
Didn't want to do it
Go for
One more time around
One more time like the old times
I still feel so much inside me
Maybe I'll make it better next time
It all depends on what I find
With one more try
Guess relationships are hard to say the least
Cause we make the same mistakes
But I've got to try and get it right
Or I'll only end up like the others who get
Stranded in the night
So I'm going to do it
Go for one more time around
One more time like the old times
I still feel so much inside me
Maybe I'll make it better next time
It all depends on what I find
With just one more time around
One more time like the old times
I still feel so much inside me
Maybe we'll make it better next time
It all depends if you and I
Go for one more time around
One more time like the old times
I still feel so much inside me

Maybe I'll make it better next time
It all depends on what I find
With one more try
