I am sitting here thinking and your thoughts make me feel so sad
I am sitting here thinking and your thoughts make me
feel so sad
I've searched eleven long years for love, yeah, searchin' for something I already had When I think of what the old folks say, I can't help but cry
When I think of what the old folks say, umm, I can't help but cry
They have told me so often, you never miss your water,
'til the well goes dry
From now on, I'll try and do the things I should
From now on, I'll try and do the things I should Let's take a chance on that old sayin', it's never too late to be good
