When daddy said to his little girl "bye bye"
He never saw the treason, whoa!
He never saw the murderer
He had become...

...And the consequences they saw running through the door
This twist of fate has left her, never to be sure
They will walk away, they will never stay
They will walk away as long as I live...

When daddy said to his little girl "bye bye"
He never saw the treason
Never saw the murderer
When daddy said to his little girl "bye bye", whoa!
He never saw the treason
Never saw the murderer

...And in the classroom dreaming high above the stars
Everything around had become dark and washed away

When daddy said to his little girl "bye bye"
He never saw the treason
Never saw the murderer
When daddy said to his little girl "bye bye", whoa!
He never saw the treason
Murderer!
