"Steal"

This fire, I've spent a million hours
Deciphering the cause of all these falls
Forever, forever is the never
The neverland that never speaks my name.

Hear me now, I want to heal
The rage inside the life they steal
This fire...

The spider will indicate desire
The number eight you favour will discard
If ever, if ever you find shelter
To cover up the damage that's been done

Hear me now, I want to heal
The rage inside the life they steal

From you... don't take advice for what you feel
From you...cuz you aren't only what you hear
You are this fire

Hear me now, I want to heal
The rage inside the life they steal

From you
