"Alone In And Airpot"

I don't mind sitting here tonight
I'll look around and be grateful for the sounds
For the life that surrounds

I don't mind, being alone tonight
With my thoughts and the good things
That often hide,
when the world passes by,
it races by

I don't mind waiting here tonight
It's good to stop and to see the heart of life
It's like the sun that hits your eyes after the night
And when this life has got you down
Sometimes you need to look around
And see the life you never see
Be grateful for the air you breathe
Yeah to know, Yeah to know
There's a hope

I don't mind being alone tonight
With my thoughts and the good things
That often hide
When the world races by
