"From Nothing"

You know me so clearly,
you always stand beside me, Even if I give up trying,
you show me the hope's not dying, dying

And when I fall apart you put me on my feet,
and when I don't believe you,
You still believe in me, and when the world was weighing me down with all it's got,
You gave me a future
when I thought I had (none) nothing

I'm sorry I abandoned you.
You know I didn't mean to,
Sometimes life can be so blinding, but you show me hope's not dying

And when I fall apart you put me on my feet,
and when I don't believe you,
You still believe in me, and when the world was
weighing me down with all it's got,
You gave me a future
when I thought I had (none) nothing
