"Remember Who I Am"

My love your eye's look so tired tonight
Hit from all sides I know how this life can crush you inside Your dreams and your drive, all things aside
Remember who I AM

And love hold your head high salvation is here
What you've learned from heartache
Will dry someone else's tears

My love your eyes look so cold tonight
Hit from all sides I know how this life can blind
And love hold your head high salvation is here
What you've learned from heartache
Will dry someone else's tears Tears from this world that has turned it's back on them
And through you I'll bring hope again To them
My love your eyes - I'll dry them tonight
