The snow is falling down
I pull you near
The city sounds
Fade and disappear
City lights blur behind your ears
Your lips are warm
Even in winter air
Even in winter air

As I hold your hand
We walk familiar streets
Made brand new
Now that you're here with me
I see your eyes
You look so happy now
As the white snowflakes
Land on your dark eyebrows
Land on your dark eyebrows

There's so much I want
I want to say to you
Do you feel alive
When I'm next to you
Do you think that love
Can exist so soon
I'm hoping that
You feel the way I do
You feel the way I do

We walk up the steps
To your house front porch
We say goodbye
Under the midnight sky
I'm leaving you
Looking in your eyes
I see your smile
It says your heart is mine
It says your heart is mine

Your heart is ...

I think that I might

Be falling for you
I love who you are
And every little thing you do
There's a certain something
When it's me and you
I'm hoping that
You feel the way I do
I do

Only time will tell
If this is something true
If it's a passing stage
Cause everything we have is new
This all seems to good
To good to be true
But I'm glad I get
I get to be with you
With you
With you
With you
I get to be with you

The snow is falling down
I pull you near
The city sounds
Fade and disappear
City lights blur behind your ears
Your lips are warm
Even in winter air
