The snow came in a great white blanket.
It covered up some of the memories.
I had come home to recover.
The snow can be so cold sometimes
Guitar can be your only friend.

It falls from the sky, so hopelessly.
And a feel the loneliness in the snowflakes.
It makes things further out of reach.
It only makes things colder, so much colder.
Things are so much colder now.

Staring through the flames in the fireplace.
I can see my mother in me.
And I think of how I never turned out the right way.
It's sad to watch the movie played in reverse.

It falls from the sky, so hopelessly.
And a feel the loneliness in the snowflakes.
It makes things further out of reach.
It only makes things colder, so much colder.

Sleep little child and rest without fear.
Know that I am always near.
Calm your heart, it is beating itself to death.

And calm my heart, I tried so hard just to see you.
So calm my heart, it's beating itself to death.
And I tried so hard just to see you.

It falls from the sky, so hopelessly.
And a feel the loneliness in the snowflakes.
It makes things further out of reach.
It only makes things colder, so much colder.

It falls from the sky, with the intentions of killing
It kills the ones lost on love.
And now the candles are burning low.
And the snow is leaving just as it came.
We're left with a new world.
And I'm not sure that I fit into it.
