All I have to do is look at you
And I know why a woman loves a man
All I have to do is stare into your eyes
And deep inside my heart I understand that I would

Follow you, way beyond the moon
Just to taste the lips I need so much
But most of all I see, the way you look at me
I won't leave this world unloved

It's the sweetest feeling, now that I am sure
The lonely something, I will never be
And every night the stars come down to earth
As the light in your window waits for me
And I would

Follow you, way beyond the moon
Just to taste the lips I need so much
But most of all I see, way you look at me
I won't leave this world unloved

And I would follow you, way beyond the moon
Just to taste the lips I need so much
But most of all I see, the way you look at me
I won't leave this world unloved

Most of all I see, the way you look at me
I won't leave this world unloved
