It hurts me
To see you out with someone new
It hurts me
To long for you baby like I do

And I can't pretend
That the moment you walked in
It's easy to see
How it hurts me

I've tried to let your memory go
But there, somethings I can't control
It's more than I can take
These tears should make that plain but still
It tears me up inside

It hurts me
To see you out with someone new
It hurts me
To long for you baby like I do

And I can't pretend
That the moment you walked in
It's easy to see
How it hurts me

Foolish me for believin' all this time
That somehow you would still be mine
But you've made it more than clear
That you no longer care
But I just wanted you to know

It hurts me
To see you out with someone new
It hurts me
To long for you baby like I do

And I can't pretend
That the moment you walked in
It's easy to see
How it hurts me

It's easy to see
How it hurts me
