Sneak out with the sunrise before you move, you move.
Cuz I knew that I would be taking back these things with you. If you don't feel the same way then that won't do, cuz you want a reply, like "please stay" but things can't be the same.

You said "let's keep a secret, like come on we both need this" You got me feeling there's no harm with your lips their so cold. I should have thought when you were making me sweat, I should have known it would end like this.

You said "let's push a little stronger" but you know it'll only get harder to dig ourselves out of this mess.
Friends can't start like this. So push, push, push a little harder, these feeling will only get stronger. This soon will fall apart, I should have listened to the heart when..

need this" You got me feeling there's no harm with
end like this.

I've got a lot going on and no you don't want some, cuz I've got a lot going on.

end like this.
