They're always running around Telling me i should be free But there's no kind of way I'd let them take your love from me You see I'm not one who goes on Speculation, hearsay, gossip But i'm a firm believer In trusting, caring, and loving My love for you is so timeless It's deeper than the depth of emotion and everyday goes by, i am finding The reasons that i love you more and more Now and forever will i love you and be true Now and forever will i keep what we have new
I will cherish, adore you Trust and give my all to you now and forever will i always love you i'm not entrusted in starting all over again to give you up on someone's words it's not something i'd do you see you can tell a tree by the fruit that it bears and from where i stand i see my field is yielding wish we could sail away on an ocean float away on midnight dreams and we don't need a magic potion so we can live inside our dreams
now and forever will i keep what we have new
trust and give my all to you
you're everything i want in a lover you're everythng i need in a friend yes you are you're the shoulder that i'm leaning and depending on and i could never hurt you you're everything to me
