The boys they have there eyes all over you
And your loving every second of attention,
I need to find just some way to get through
Or at least some way that I can mention.

I'm feeling you are you feeling me
What exactly is holding us back
I'm feeling you are you feeling me
Just give me something just gimme gimme anything

It's you it's true your electric I can't get over it
It's you it's true your electric I can't get over it

Your running through my veins
You fell like a freight train
I'm trying everything to keep my hands off of you
So give me somethin please just give me anything because I want you more than they do.

And oh no I think I lost myself in your deep blue eyes
And oh know I think it's time we cut to the chase tonight
