Surrounded by familiar faces
The people that you love to see
Where everybody knows your name
And they're smilin?

We may not be gettin' younger
Our days might be slippin' away
Yeah, we're still so fuckin' young
So we'll party like it's our last day

And for the first time I feel less alone
And for the first time I can call this home

It's our last time to say goodnight
Don't say goodbye 'cause in the mornin' we'll
We'll see you around and we'll sing it again
Same time tomorrow, yeah, we'll all join in

I'm ashamed of feelin' down now
'Cause we're the people we've been waitin' on
All we needed was some good friends
And a song to sing along

With voices yellin' in the front room
No one could tell us keep it down
So we all just kept it loud
And tried to wake the entire town

And for the first time I feel less alone
And for the first time I can call this home

It's our last time to say goodnight
Don't say goodbye 'cause in the mornin' we'll
We'll see you around and we'll sing it again
Same time tomorrow, yeah, we'll all join in

It's our last time to say goodnight
Don't say goodbye 'cause in the mornin' we'll
We'll see you around and we'll sing it again
Same time tomorrow, yeah, we'll all join in

Oh, each day's a number

But we can't forget last summer
When we say we do we're on to the end
Go on and sing it out

Our days are numbered
And we know we're not gettin' any younger
But it's nights like these
That make you not really care

Oh, each day's a number
But we can't forget last summer
When we say we do we're on to the end
Go on and sing it out

Our days are numbered
We know we're not gettin' any younger
But it's nights like these
That make you not really care

We all have been degraded
We all have been the greatest
We all have been degraded
We all will be the greatest
