God damn let's hit it on the weak spot because everybody knows that we all had enough Smell the scent of gasoline fumes because we're not victims and we know what to do Right now a systematic shutdown of New World orders and resurecting plans Hold tight cause here comes the latest craze I've got news baby and this is what I say

A new morning-the weather's changing

Goddamn let's build a new movement dead time pacifies so let's do it This time all these slogans will come alive cause we're not going to be bored this time Right now a systematic shutdown of neo-liberals and assorted clowns
So strike the match and baby clench your fist cause here comes a party that we don't want to miss

A new morning-the weather's changing

Yeah, independence, we are playing a little game Yeah, independence, it's coming our way
