Heard them talking about a place where we could go
The fever caught until I told you so We're just packing up the bags, off we go

'Cause this is dreams for everyone and it got moves for everyone this was what I heard, everyone

Heard them talking about a place where we could go
A perfect setting were we'll make reality explode
A dimension that itself will be beyond control

'Cause there is dreams for everyone baptized for everyone, everyone

Save me won't you please, save me from this
Hyper-reality, but there's nowhere more real than here
Save me won't you please, save me from this
Hyper-reality, but there's nowhere more real than here

Heard them talking about a place where we could go
This represents nothing but leaves, so we're told
And it keeps coming, keeps coming back for more
Heard them talking about a place where we could go Straight into simulacra overload
Just a heart beat away from the final

Won't you please, please save me
Won't you please, please save me

Save me won't you please, save me from this
Hyper-reality, but there's nowhere more real than here
Save me won't you please, save me from this
Hyper-reality, but there's nowhere more real than here
Save me won't you please, save me won't you please,
save me
Save me won't you please, save me won't you please,
save me
But there's nowhere more real than here
