We've all got cares, we all got our position we own the painfull times, when pleasures hard to buy and we all make the same mistakes share the same heartache so when you loose controll next time

Let go, let go
let the spirit world inside protect you
Let go, let go
And let the wings of change direct you

We all got claimes, we all got competition We own the tearsty days when the rivers of melt run dry
It takes so long to gain respect, and tearses are all we get
So when you loose controll next time

Let go, let go
let the spirit world inside protect you
let go, let go
and let the wings of change direct you

We make the same mistakes and we share the same heartbrakes all you've got to do is let go

let go, let go
yeah, let go
let the spirit world inside protect you
let go, let go
and let the wings of change direct you all you've got to do is
