(talking)

Say man, yeah you dog

How you gon let the world, take you out the game like that man

You better step up, and be a man homeboy

And girl you ain't no better, look at ya

Laying around, whining and crying bout your situation

Looking to everybody for answers

You kno who you need to be looking for answers from

Feel me on this one here, this for you listen

[K.O.]

Ooooh-ooooh-ooooh-oooh - 4x

[K-Rino]

Let's stop tripping, cause death don't look good in God's sight

Long as you living you got another chance, to make what ever's wrong right

When you climbed out of your bed, the sun hit you with strong light

Sleeping under a bridge out in the cold, now that's a long night

If you ain't never missed a meal, or had to sleep out on the cut

Or went weeks without seeing money, you need to keep your mouth shut

Cause folks in wheelchairs, and others layed up in hospital beds

And people suffering till they drop dead, without little said

I'm trying to live, but even when it's hard I'm glad to survive

You waiting to die to see heaven, when you can have it alive

You breathing but you ain't living, if you ain't giving no service

It's sad to see somebody check out, without knowing they purpose

You saying you suicidal, crying bout your condition

Wishing for death until you caught slipping, and placed in position

Then you beg for life, cause living in natural inclination Whatever you going through, make the best of the situation and understand

[Hook: K.O.]

Everyday above the ground, is a beautiful day It don't matter if life is bringing you down, just be thankful anyway
Even when the rain come, or the clouds may be gray Know you can always turn your problems around, if you look to God and pray

[K-Rino]

Life is a movie, that concludes with tears and no hand clapping People ain't scared to die, the thing they fear is how it'll happen
Or where they going, the method of exit you can't choose it
Some don't appreciate life, until they almost lose it People get burned, and say I'll never help nobody again
That's a mistake that go to show you, put your faith in men
Your blessings don't come from them, your blessings come from him
So do your best to be forgiving, and not so quick to condemn Don't complain gain your composure, and try to sustain Avoid the horizontal and remain, on a vertical plain You wasn't born high, so the truth is we don't need Drugs and liquor just to function, or cigarettes and weed
We contaminate our physicals, whenever we use em Getting high disguises problems, only God can remove em Talking about how hard your life is, being spiteful and hateful You ain't suffered more than Jesus did, so live and be grateful and understand

[Hook]

[K-Rino]

The grass the trees, the sun the earth The uncountable amounts of breath, that you took since birth
The vision, that let's you distinguish the night from the day
The protection from trouble, and guidance from going astray

You can overcome anything, in all circumstances Thank whatever name you calling, for multiple chances The hardest thing you'll ever do in life, no if's or maybe's

Is reborn you already did that, you was only a baby Now you grown and got intelligence, revolving in you And bring it down, because you can't handle a problem or two

Come on now pick yourself up, you stronger than that Quitting's for the weak, we been pushing too long to go back

If you a single mama, there's one thang I wanna tell you

Raise your child to be the person, that they father failed to

Don't let emotion get you, happiness is there if you want it

The love that you give life, is the love you receive from it understand

[Hook]

[K.O.]

I know it gets hard sometimes

I know I know, it gets hard sometimes

But keep God, on your mind

Keep him on your mind, keep God on your mind

Cause he will elevate you, ooooh-oh

And all the things you do, everyday always everyday
