In his arms I forget
The beautiful women he met
Behind my back
His eyes stay true
Even loving you

God knows, God don't know
God don't know

I begged him to leave you
Saying that together we'll be free
He comes home late
All scratched up
Oh my mind's f*cked up

God knows, God don't know
God don't know

I even thought I could get out
Walk away, put my head right
He wakes up with a mouth too sweet
He still makes me bleed

God knows, God don't know
God knows, God don't know
God knows, God don't know
God don't know, God don't know
