Passed your house today and saw you weren't at home
It's been so long
The memories of you still linger in my mind
So I drove on, I drove on

And I'm driving you out of my mind
On my way to town
But the miles keep getting longer
And those memories getting stronger
So I'm driving you out, out of my mind

Passed the church that we used to go to Every Sunday till noon
You keep running through my mind, yes
So I drove on, I drove on

And I'm driving you out of my mind
On my way to town
But the miles keep getting longer
And those memories getting stronger
So I'm driving you out, out of my mind

The yellow lights keep moving down that lonely road
Turns pages in my mind
[Incomprehensible] never tells me that I left it all behind
So I drove on

And I'm driving you out of my mind
On my way to town
But the miles keep getting longer
And those memories getting stronger
So I'm driving you out, out of my mind
Out of my mind, out of my mind
