If your summer's too long
If you needed someone
I'll be there

If your clouds have turned on
If your fires have run
I'll be there

But you don't need a friend
Every corner turned is another page in a book called
"Dead End"
Dead end

Oh the world it moves on
Running over the pawns in the squares
Like a hurricane dawns
Barbarian yawns fill the air

But you don't need a friend
Every corner turned is another page in a book called
"Dead End"

But you don't need a friend
No, you don't need a friend
Every corner turned is another page in a book called
"Dead End"
Dead end
Dead end
