Saw you walking down Sycamore
With your new friend on your arm
He might love you a little more,
But he can't love you as long
He won't love you as long

Time's been wasting on a lonesome afternoon
And you're the one I used to love
Well love, it can turn on you

I love waltzing down Rosemary
With daylight coming on strong
Emptied out like the balconies
That nobody ever seems to be on
Yeah, nobody's home

Time's been wasting on a lonesome afternoon
And you're the one I used to love
Well love, it can turn on you

Oh my God
Yeah love, it can turn on you but that same love
That same love, it can turn you on
