Don't blame the moon
Just blame your smile
It kisses many devils that were fashioned out of style

Don't blame the moon
It only glows
Tracing silhouettes of skeletons that rose

Don't blame the moon
Don't blame the moon
She will clear her name soon

Don't blame the moon
The barmen cheers
Dancing on your lashes as your eyes fill with tears

Don't blame the moon
It's not her fault
Reflecting off the sea as your eyes fill with salt

Don't blame the moon
Don't blame the moon
She will clear her name soon

But if you blame the moon
See past its glow
Look beneath the skin
Look into your soul

Don't look where it shines
Or how the tides flow
It's easy to look now
Now look into your soul

Don't blame the moon
Don't blame the moon
She will clear her name soon
