

The Mavericks

"As Long As There's Loving Tonight"

Visit "As Long As There's Loving Tonight" on MotoLyrics.com

Well I've given her diamonds and pearls
And I'll give her what's left of my world
And I won't even put up a fight
As long as there's loving tonight

She's always getting her way
With little or nothing to say
When I know she's wrong, that's alright
As long as there's loving tonight

Well alright, OK, she wins again
Well I've seen this all before, how our story ends
The kiss I can't resist she always calls goodbye
Well in time I've come to find
It's my favorite line

Well no one else can play our crazy little games
They're meant for us and us alone
Where losing feels like winning
The end is the beginning
The better I should know
So please baby please, go easy on me
Tell me what you need
My dear I'll agree

As long as there's loving tonight
I'm hers for the rest of my life
And I won't even put up a fight
As long as there's loving tonight

As long as there's loving tonight
I'm hers for the rest of my life
And I won't even put up a fight
As long as there's loving tonight

And I won't even put up a fight
As long as there's love
As long as there's love
As long as there's loving tonight

