I'm lying here all alone
In my bed, thinking of you
Oh, I wish that you could Understand one day how Important you are to me

And I
I'm just waiting for you to come
And wake me up from this endless nightmare
And I
I'm just waiting for you to come
And wake me up from this endless nightmare
Wake me up
From this nightmare

No, you're not coming
You're not coming back anymore
I can't believe that you're gone
Gone forever
And no, I won't
I won't ever forget your smile
Won't forget your laugh, your cases

I'm still in love with you, boy
I've promised that you're the only one for me
And I'm gonna keep my promises
But I don't get it
Why you left me all alone in this world?
'Cause all the time you've been told to me
How important is talk about sorrows

And I
I'm just waiting for you to come
And wake me up from this endless nightmare
And I
I'm just waiting for you to come
And wake me up from this endless nightmare
Wake me up
From this nightmare

Nobody could ever comprehend how I feel

And I've promised that I'm gonna be yours
Forever
And I'm gonna keep that promise
So I take my life away 'n I'm coming to you
Then we can be together whenever

And I
I'm just waiting for you to come
And wake me up from this endless nightmare
And I
I'm just waiting for you to come
And wake me up from this endless nightmare
Wake me up
From this nightmare
