"Talk About Jesus"

You never told me, what you always said
We'll be here, we'll pray for you; echos in my head.
I still remember, longing to escape;
Like a man in prison chains is my life invain

I cry out for you to hear me; and I wonder, does anybody care

You talk about Jesus, how He set you free
You talk about a Savior, how He died for me
I don't understand what you're talking about;
All I see is pain when I look around

All I ever wanted, never wanted me
All the dreams that I've lived for have left me incomplete
Now I'm still searching if I can find the truth
But these voices haunting me, have left me so confused.

I cry out for you to hear and I wonder does anybody care

You talk about Jesus, how He set you free
You talk about a Savior, how He died for me
I don't understand what you're talking about;
All I feel is pain, please help me now.

When I was cold, did you let me in?
When I was hungry, were you my friend?
When I was down and out and needed your hand,
Did you see a chance or just a desparate man

You talk about Jesus, how He set you free
You talk about a Savior, how He died for me
I don't understand what you're talking about;
All I feel is pain, please help me now.

You say we're equal, all men are brothers.
Then why are rich more equal than others, yeah more equal than others

Don't ask the answers, I've only got one
When a man leaves his darkness, he follows the SON.
