I'm the only one who's left now in this hemisphere
I'm the only one who's left now everybody's dead
So when I try to speak my mind
I'm the only one around
They've been killed by cruel cruel death
And I'm the only one who's left

I've got food and drinks and everything that helps to pass the time
I can walk into a store and grab whatever's on my mind
It's like that children's book I read
About a boy who lived that way
And he gets tired of it all
Then classic ending he wakes up

Don't let evil cling
Let love-bells ring

It's a brand new day this way
(Don't let evil cling)
Don't you stand there sighing
(Let love-bells ring)
We could rule this hemisphere
(Don't let evil cling)
But you're all busy dying
(Let love-bells ring)

All my friends are on the way now left through clouds of snow
I'm stranded here with Christian books and plastic flowers on the shelf
So when I try to speak my mind
I'm the only one around
Already many miles away
And I'm the only one who stayed

Anyone can fill his life with things that helps to pass the time
Is there someone here who thinks it's not enough to pass the time
Who wants to join me in my sect

Who wants to strive and then collect
Who wants to struggle for a cause
Who wants to know the two first laws

Don't let evil cling
Let love-bells ring

It's a brand new day this way
(Don't let evil cling)
Don't you stand there sighing
(Let love-bells ring)
We could rule this hemisphere
(Don't let evil cling)
But you're all busy dying
(Let love-bells ring)

Don't let evil cling
Let love-bells ring
(x2)
