There's a burning question in my heart
But I see the answer in your eyes
An uneasy feeling without you
There's only peace by your side
Our hearts survived the cold world outside
Somehow this love keeps us alive
I feel it in the morning
I feel it all through the day
I feel the heartache, slowly slipping away, slowly slipping away
We've had our share of confusion
We've been let down so many times before
But what I've found is a real love
No need to search anymore, no
Somehow we've weathered the storms in our lives
This love has never been a lie
Chorus
We will survive the cold world outside
Somehow this love keeps us alive
Chorus

It's a harem scarems song
