

The The "Sodium Light Baby"

As I sat in the back of that old taxi cab
Waitin' for the evenin' to come
On every street of this city
I heard you call my name

You're the strangest feeling I ever had
The strangest feeling
You're the strangest feeling I ever had
The strangest feeling

From the day that we are born, until the day we die
We are hostage to our hearts' desire
Though I ride this city
I can't escape from you

And when I look up to the stars I wonder
Can the world really be so cruel?

You're the strangest feeling I ever had
The strangest feeling
You're the strangest feeling I ever had
The strangest feeling

Tonight the wolves are howling
I can't escape from you
A yearning past denying
I will surrender to

You're the strangest feeling I ever had
The strangest feeling
You're the strangest feeling I ever had
The strangest feeling

Shine on me, Sodium light baby
Shine on me, Sodium light baby
Shine on me, Sodium light baby
Shine on me, Sodium light baby
