momma's found a house
in the countryside
it was built in seventeen ninety five solid as a stone

we'll wait for flowers in the spring we'll listen to the pine trees sing

oh, momma's got a home
momma's got a home
momma's got a home
of her own

there's a perfect place for the rockin chair
settle down by the window
over there
soft as a cradle

she'll rock the babies when they cry she'll sing a favorite lullaby

oh, momma's got a home
momma's got a home
momma's got a home
of her own

we'll whistle with the whippoorwill we'll watch the sun over the hill

momma's got a home
momma's got a home of her own

to keep her company
when the wind blows
