Hey kids

There's no romance in fate, you'll go far

Because all the one night stands

Could be within your hands, alright

Here comes the hard sell from the top

Used to sleep walk but I woke up

Felt emptier than a suburban swimming pool in the fall

Wait, I've noticed today I've let years slip by, I don't know why

It's not like I've got time on my side

It's not like I've got time on my side

It's not like you've got an alibi

Who could testify for our wasted lives

Hey kids

You've been typecast all your lives, but no more

Guardian angels should be ashamed of themselves, alright

Here comes the hard sell from the top

Lose faith in fate

Wait, I noticed today I've let years slip by

I don't know why

Oh my darling, just wanna lie low

Lost in the tempo, lost in you

It's not like I've got time on my side

It's not like I've got time on my side

Who could testify for our wasted lives
