

The Thrills

"The Midnight Choir"

Visit "The Midnight Choir" on MotoLyrics.com

Slow down, lately lives are moving too fast
Put your money down and we'll make it last
By dawn we'll be out of here

The marching band play for the families
Through the streets, beautiful symphonies
Let's walk through the park while the trees are still there

And the midnight choir, they sing
They sing a hymn we used to believe in [Incomprehensible]
But it's all we've got

I've found a job and I'm gonna hold this one down
I was a burden to everyone
When I was young and far from home

But now you're home 'cause you can't run forever
The old parade stumble together
The drinks and last all on them

And the midnight choir, they sing
They sing a hymn we used to believe in
[Incomprehensible]
But it's all we've got

I don't know what I'd do, I don't know what I'd do
You're all I've ever known
But if something should come between us
Oh, if something should come between us

And the midnight choir, they sing
They sing a hymn we used to believe in
[Incomprehensible]
But it's all we've got

Visit The Thrills page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.