When I've seen you there
You were talking to my heart
Talking 'bout the things
I've been searching for a long time

Then I've seen you cry
And I suddenly realized
What was in your mind
And where's the point that love grows cold

No more goodbyes, no more telling lies
Making plans again, making plans without you

Take me, in my darkest day
Won't you take me, would you give us one more chance?
Let me gaze into your eyes again

You were in my life
Like nobody was before
You've stood by my side
Even when the party was over

Now you see me cry
But I don't need no sympathy
I didn't lose my mind
I just got my head in the clouds

No more goodbyes, no more telling lies
Making plans again, making plans without you

Take me, in my darkest day
Won't you take me, would you give us one more
chance?
Let me gaze into your eyes again
