It's not easy to explain
What my heart has felt that day
When I meant to talk to you

Just an ordinary night
Out with friends and everything was fine
I didn't know if I should've drunk more
Maybe just one beer and then I'll go home
Then you entered through the door
My eyes met yours and nothing was
Was as easy as before

It's not easy to explain
What my heart has felt that day
When I meant to talk to you
Now even in the brightest night
I feel lost without your light
Oh baby, I'm never leaving you

Just an ordinary night
Out with friends and everything was fine

It's not easy to explain
What my heart has felt that day
When I meant to talk to you
Now even in the brightest night
I feel lost without your light
Oh baby, I'm never leaving you

I can't find the words to say
What I'm feeling every day
When you walk and hold my hand
Now even in the brightest night
I feel lost without your light
Oh baby, I'm never leaving you
