I am on my way on a train steaming along in the rain from the life I lived before.
I have a tear in my eye sometimes it's easy to cry though I'm not a child anymore.

Can't stop the train from arolling or make the wheels turn slow you know I had to go.
Can't stop the train from arolling
and neather snow or rain
can get me back again.

I am on the run from my home somehow I'll make it alone if I'm strong enough today.
You know I had to go along, wooooaaaooo pray for me while I am all gone think of me sometime anyway.

Can't stop the train from arolling or make the whels turn slow
you know I had to go.
Can't stop the train from arolling
and neather snow or rain
can get me back again.
