[Intro -J.Carr talking]

Hey God Bless America

See most of y'all don't understand how real this is

But you'll see when it's gone

It's so much opportunity

That y'all just wasting y'all opportunity man

Before you know it

You'll be old and grey

With no chance

Just looking back like damn man

What could I have done?

What should I have done?

Well

Listen up

[Verse 1]

I'm like an only child tryna make his mother smile

Working overtime tryna run that extra mile

Pinching pennies all the time

Never dropping dimes

F a 9-5 I'm tryna make it off my rhymes

I'm like a student who was truant plenty days to class

Supporting family & himself while he tries to pass

When you see him he keep smiling tho you know he has

A ton of boulders on his shoulder that will make you sad

I'm like the captain of the team

Tryna live a dream

Play division 1 in college sports by any means

The only player to go major coming out my town

If I don't make it then I'm letting everybody down

[Bridge]

So please pray for the long lost souls that have gone astray (hey)

We tryna get it in where we fit in every single day (hey)

Whether you made the grade (hey)

Or you beat the case (hey)

Just stay pursuing what you doing gotta keep the pace

[Chorus 2x]

Question 1

Do you wanna do the best that you have ever done?

Question 2

Do you wanna see your fantasies come true?

Question 3

Live your dreams and be richer than you'll ever be

Are you ready to be answering your destiny?

[Verse 2]

Uh

I'm like the father that aint seen his son in many years

I'm such a screw up all I got to show is many tears

So you know I gotta tell him be a better dad

But he don't know cuz growin' up that's what he never had

I'm like the rookie cop tryna overcome his fears

When he gets home he puts his trust in wine & miller beer

He knows to always trust his gun when he's in a hole

But there's no point in having badges when you lost your soul

I'm like the singers having butterflies their biggest moments

Before i go out on stage I know I always will blow it

Cuz I been doin this for long still going strong

Although I'm broke and working hard without a hit for long

[Bridge]

[Chorus 2x]

[Verse 3]

Uh

This the nerd song tryna get a date for prom

This for cons tryna get it right from all the wrong

This for backups tryna rack up points on final shots

This for ballers with long money who don't have a lot

This for addicts working madly just to kick a habit

This for orphans on a Christmas morning feeling magic

This for widows who won't get over their long lost

This for those that pay for love no matter what's the cost

I've travelled many lands learned that there's a price to pay

Some all at once while the others pay installments trade

Everything I have to start up with a clean slate

I wouldn't trade it for the world

And I'll die today

[Bridge]

[Chorus 2x]
