I'm losin my best friend,
But they've been gone for months,
Tried to pretend things were the same, but they're not Want things to go back to the way they where,
But we've changed, neither of us is the same person that we were before
Don't know what'll we'll do cause we've split for good
All I ever wanted was to be understood,
Losin my best friend,
Losin my best friend,
Losin my best friend,
Losin my best friend,
A best friend is someone you can turn to,
Ring at any time of the night,
Someone to understand and stick up for you,
Who trust you more than anyone else,
Someone who may not share your opinions but trusts in your intellect,
instincts and beliefs.
Someone whos will be there when noone else is
Losin my best friend,
Losin my best friend,

Losin my best friend,

Losin my best friend,

Well I'm losin my best friend,

But I guess that's okay,

Cause they obviously had too many doubts to trust in me anyway.

Well this isn't a hateful song,

It's full of good thoughts about a relationship that turned bad.

But those good thoughts kinda slipped along the way,

And now I'm just left with nothing but these words and an empty space where,

My best friend used to be...

Losin my best friend,

Losin my best friend,

Losin my best friend,

Losin my best friend,

Yeah, my best friend went away
