flying down the highway like a bullet through a gun destination somewhere in the sun i quit my job on sunday phone call off on monday they can't kick me out cause im already gone and i know im just one step behind you this time im gonna find you and when i do ill never let you go yeah im gonna fly like a 747 fuel my rockets at the 711 im alright cause i know that im heading back to you you

you you

the sky is so electric there is music everywhere headlights pass like fireflies in the air laze into the retro singing with the radio the wind blows like a hurrican through my hair and the thought of you is so inviting i feel the sparks igniting wheels are turning but im already there

you you

floating at the speed of sound desending down to you riding on a dream id liked it feels so right to me

im gonna find a little piece of heaven
im alright cause i know that im heading back to you you
you you
back to you you you you you

im alright cause i know that im heading back to you you

im gonna find a little piece of heaven
you you

im gonna fly like a 747 in the sky im alright cause im heading back to you you you you
you

you
