And everybody's saying
That I must be crazy
He loves me, he hates me
It doesn't really matter
Cause I know we are who we are
I know we are who we are

But I'm never right, never wrong
Can't seem to make up my mind
There's no light coming on
In my head and
I want you, I wait
Everytime you run away
I want you, I try
I never get it right
Why you just push me away
Like everybody else
You push me further away

I dreamt that I woke up
Everything was ours
And he was there waiting
So much for sanity
Cause nothing ever changes
But I know we are who we are
I know we are who we are

But I'm never right, never wrong
Can't seem to make up my mind
There's no time, for hanging on
I want you, I wait
Everytime you run away
I want you, I try
I never get it right
Why you just push me away
Like everybody else
You push me further away
Like everybody else

And how long should I wait

Everytime you run away
And how long should I try
But never get it right

I want you, I wait
Everytime you run away
I want you, I try
But never get it right
Why you just push me away
Like everybody else
You push me further away
Like everybody else
